War Eagle! My name is Brandan Belser and I am running with the ticket, Tichenor? I Hardly Know Her, for the position of College of Liberal Arts Senate. When I first came to Auburn, I had to create and carve out spaces that made me feel at home, and made students feel heard and represented. As one of your senators for the College of Liberal Arts, I will continue to make sure that every member of the Auburn Family feels included. This will be achieved through legislation and commendations that bring the excellence of under-represented students to light.

The College of Liberal Arts currently has over 40 majors and even more minors. Such a large college with a diverse group of majors can often be disconnected. As one of your senators for the College of Liberal Arts, I will make sure that every student and every major, from Goodwin Hall all the way to Biggin Hall, feels connected to the purpose and mission of Auburn University. This will be achieved by holding bi-weekly town hall meetings and publishing SGA updates in the CLA newsletter.

My last mission for the College of Liberal Arts is that we continue to be the premiere College of standards and of achievement. We can only maintain this level of prestige if every Auburn student has a seat at the table. Each student deserves to have their voice heard, and with your support on February 2nd, we can make that wish a reality.
