RE: Section 307 Deletion: Action by the President of Auburn University

DATE: October 10, 2022

PSSB: 22-1010-03

- ~~307.1 Upon receipt of a Bill of Law, the President of Auburn University shall have ten (10) business days to approve or veto.~~
- ~~307.2 The President of Auburn University shall submit with all vetoed bills their reasons in writing for such action. The Student Senate shall have at a minimum three (3) business days to review a veto before the legislation may be reconsidered on the Senate floor.~~
- ~~307.3 Bills not acted upon by the President of Auburn University within ten (10) days shall be treated as approved.~~

~~The Code of Laws Committee, along with Brad Smith, do not find it necessary for Chapter 306 to be written into the Code any longer. Our recent presidents have not shown an interest in taking direct action on business of the Student Senate unless it directly concerns him or her. We expect future presidents to follow suit. Furthermore, we find it inappropriate for the Code of Laws to “require” the President to take any sort of action. Her or she live very busy lives and should not have a direct hand in what the Student Senate does anyways. The bills may be brought before the President for advice or critique, but this will only happen when the bill concerns the President or the projects he or she is working on.—~~
