War Eagle...

SGA has been a long-standing tradition of the Auburn Family for decades. And the Auburn Family is strong- it doesn't take someone long to realize that when they stand in an airport halfway across the globe and still recognize the War Eagle cry.

The Auburn Family is strong indeed- traditions that date back all the way to 1856. We recall these memories of old as milestone markers that have made us who we are to this day.

You don't choose the family you are born into, but for many of us, we would argue that it was all fate from the beginning- the orange and the blue, the chimes of a central clock tower, and a place that looks a lot like your hometown when the month turns to September.

We will carry these memories with us for the rest of our lives and the stories we tell will not leave our lips until the day we can walk hand in hand, and humbly, with our God.

And in any family, these traditions, memories, and structures are passed on for generations. How do we move into new seasons, while holding closely those values and histories that were forged by those who preceded us?

This contemplation resonates with many of us who are mere months away from graduation, weeks away from moving into on-campus housing for the first time, or even an aspiring member of the Auburn Family on a bustling gameday. No matter where we fall on the Auburn ride, change is something that we must learn to embrace.

When we go "Hall In", we are standing together for an Inclusive Student Experience, Unmatched Tradition, and True Governance. As Auburn students, we are equipped with a practical education aided by awareness to contribute positively to an ever-changing society. We are "Hall In" to continue sharpening this awareness and forging these ambitiously realistic objectives. Given this desire, only through these objectives will the Student Government Association be able to serve, promote, and unify all that is Auburn.

I. HALL IN for an Inclusive Student Experience

- Establish partnerships, promotion, and growth of long-term events with SAO's that allow more representativeness and discussion among individuals, nurturing relations among students.

II. HALL IN for Unmatched Tradition

- Through standing together to create new tradition, we hand down memories and stories to the future of our Auburn Family. Unite the people of Auburn through live music that commemorates how far we've come, and the future that lies ahead for all of us.

III. HALL IN for True Governance

- Serve the Student Government through charismatic leadership and a term that is built upon authentic relationships through all branches of operations ensuring energy, accountability, and results for our constituents.

War Eagle Auburn Family.
