Hello Auburn family! My name is Hannah Roberts, and I am running for one of the positions of Senator for the College of Architecture, Design, and Construction (CADC) in Auburn University's Student Government Association (SGA). As a second-year student majoring in Environmental Design with a minor in Real Estate Development, I am committed to advocating for the needs of our college. I aim to build stronger connections between students and the broader university, and enhance the overall student experience within our field. My background has provided me with the skills and experiences that make me well-suited for this position. Serving on Auburn SGA's Cabinet has given me valuable insight into the inner workings of student government. I have learned the importance of student advocacy and how to create tangible solutions for the Auburn student body. This role requires me to excel in public speaking, delegation, and professionalism, which will continue to help me effectively communicate with fellow students, faculty, and administration.

As a CADC student, I understand the demanding academic schedules and workloads, which is why I believe it is vital to create more opportunities for students to interact and collaborate. Whether through social events, mentorship programs, or interdepartmental projects, valuing community will enhance the student experience. In addition to these ideas, I am also committed to advocating for additional resources that support CADC students. Mental health resources or academic support services could both potentially improve the stress CADC students operate under. Another path to relieve worry from CADC students follows working with faculty, administration, and industry professionals to facilitate internships, career fairs, and workshops that will help our students build connections and gain the practical skills needed for success after graduation.

One final goal of mine, as an Environmental Design major, is to prioritize sustainability within CADC. I will advocate for initiatives within our college that encourage sustainable design practices, promote green building workshops, or collaborate with campus sustainability groups. With these objectives in mind, CADC can aid in increasing Auburn's role in sustainable development. Overall, with your support, I will readily work to ensure that CADC students are heard, supported, and empowered. I am dedicated to making our college not only a place of academic excellence but also a vibrant, engaged community where every student can thrive. Thank you for your consideration, and War Eagle!
