My name is Wheeler Smith; I am happy to announce that I will be running to be a senator of the Raymond J. Harbert College of Business. I have always had a passion for student government. Freshman year I decided that I wanted to get involved in SGA. I went through the interview process to be on the SGA Cabinet; I was accepted and chosen to be the Director of Auburn Answers. Auburn Answers is the primary way SGA gets feedback from the student body. I worked with my team to create a more efficient and better version of Auburn Answers. I specialized in being a bridge from the student body to the student government. If elected, I do not intend to stop being that bridge. I want to hear more and more about what the student body needs and their ideas on how to make Auburn a better place. After all, thirty-three thousand minds are better than one. Auburn is a special place because of the traditions held on this sacred ground. I only intend to encourage and push these traditions in the right direction, to serve each other and to build one another up. Another reason why I want to run for this position is because the business school at Auburn has given me so many opportunities and relationships, and my only correct response to this gift is to give back all that I owe. Tradition and relationships push Auburn to be great, as I have learned after 3 semesters. As Senator, I want to push to make those relationships, be there for the business school students, and work hard to be that bridge. Lastly, I want to give opportunities for other students to be able to communicate and connect across different colleges. There is unlimited potential when we can connect the best minds in different fields across the campus. All in all my goal is to serve the student body and work for something that is better than myself, and especially to serve the students of the Harbert College of business.
